

Metal Construction Association (MCA) Summer Meeting

Start Date: 6/23/2026

End Date: 6/24/2026

The Metal Construction Association (MCA) Summer Meeting returns June 23–24 to Rosemont, IL. You’re invited to register for 2 can’t-miss days of industry insights, practical education, and high-value networking. This meeting is built to help your team stay ahead.

Here’s what you can look forward to (including new dual-track education to benefit more of your team):

New dual-track education: Choose the sessions that fit your role—with content for business leaders and technical staff running at the same time as sessions designed for marketing and sales. It’s the perfect reason to bring more team members and invest in your company’s rising stars as you build the next generation of company leadership.

Timely insights from industry experts: Get clear perspective on the economic outlook, policy and regulatory developments, and what they mean for your business—plus real-world strategies you can put to work right away.

High-impact networking: Build relationships across the metal construction supply chain in a relaxed setting. Compare notes with peers, spark new ideas, and leave with contacts you’ll actually use all year.

Who should attend?

Bring multiple team members to take full advantage of this year’s dual-track education and maximize the value of your time in Rosemont. This meeting is ideal for:

Business leaders & decision-makers looking for market insight, strategy, and peer connection.

Technical professionals who want practical education and a deeper understanding of the issues shaping metal construction.

Marketing & sales teams focused on positioning, customer conversations, and growth opportunities.

Emerging leaders (“rising stars”) you’re preparing for the next step—so they can learn, network, and bring fresh ideas back to the organization.
